Jul 20, 2020 12:30 PM

UNIONDALE, N.Y., July 20, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Flushing Financial Corporation (the "Company") (Nasdaq: FFIC), the parent holding company for Flushing Bank (the "Bank"), announced today that it has begun accepting applications for the Main Street Lending Program made available to businesses through the Federal Reserve.

The Federal Reserve established the Main Street Lending Program to support lending to small and medium-sized businesses that were in sound financial condition before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Program will operate through three facilities: the Main Street New Loan Facility (MSNLF), the Main Street Priority Loan Facility (MSPLF), and the Main Street Expanded Loan Facility (MSELF).

John R. Buran, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "We are very pleased that Flushing Bank has been approved as one of only nine participating Main Street Lending Program lenders in New York and that we have begun accepting Program applications. We recognize that small and medium-sized businesses in our market are struggling to manage through this healthcare crisis. These businesses play an important role in the economic health of our local communities and are vital to our economic recovery. As a community bank, it is our job to partner with businesses in our communities to provide support to help get them through this difficult time."
