

Flushing Bank Selects Vanguard Software Group's LoanVantage Product

Apr 14, 2016 2:00 PM

UNIONDALE, N.Y., April 14, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Flushing Financial Corporation (the "Company") (Nasdaq:FFIC), the parent holding company for Flushing Bank (the "Bank"), announced today that the Bank has selected Vanguard Software Group's LoanVantage to fully automate and enhance its commercial loan analysis, underwriting, review and management.

Integrated with our FIS Miser core processing system, LoanVantage will allow Flushing Bank to standardize its commercial loan processes including loan requests, financial analysis, underwriting and loan review and automate the management of its growing commercial loan portfolio.

"We are pleased to choose LoanVantage and work with Vanguard Software Group, a partner that is uniquely positioned to deliver seamless and flexible commercial lending automation. Leveraging technology to gain efficiencies and deliver a superior customer experience is an integral part of our growth strategy. We recognize it is imperative to keep pace with advancements in the marketplace and adapt to stay current with evolving trends to remain competitive." said John R. Buran, President and Chief Executive Officer of Flushing Bank. "Given our shared philosophy of exceeding customer expectations, we are confident that Vanguard's end to end, loan lifecycle solution will help us surpass this goal. Working with Vanguard Software Group and their active User Group, we will have significant input into future functionality and new product introductions to ensure that LoanVantage's robust, flexible platform will contribute to our ongoing success."

Vanguard Software Group has made its mark on the bank technology market in recent years by forming partnerships with a growing number of financial institutions across the country. As innovators in Commercial Loan automation, Vanguard Software Group is a key partner of its Banks and Credit Unions. Commercial lending is an important strategic initiative for these customers and LoanVantage's ability to deliver commercial loan lifecycle management enables them to improve their current processes and expand their market share.

"We are honored that Flushing Bank has chosen LoanVantage and pleased that they are already contributing to our User Group. The input from our client partners enables us to constantly improve the delivery of our industry leading commercial lending analytics, underwriting, review and management solution and better serve our customers," said Mark Hill, President and CEO of Vanguard Software Group. "Automating the complete commercial loan lifecycle and satisfying every one of our customer's needs is our top priority."
